How can I remove a reservation with special character?

Issue: How can I remove a reservation with special character?

Symptom: In some cases an admin may create an administrative reservation with a special character such as *,%,#,$,&. In these cases the shell may have some issues escaping.

Solution:

You may need to escape the character in-order to remove the reservation. For example:

```
mrsvctl -r rsv1*.160156
```

```
mrsvctl -r 'rsv1*.160156'
```

```
mrsvctl -r "rsv1*.160156"
```

```
mrsvctl -r rsv1*.160156
```
